Dear Mr. Smith

Thank you for your letter of 23rd April 2021.

As you will be aware, we have worked tirelessly over recent years to tackle anti-social behaviour within Stirling city centre and have worked with residents, business owners and partners to achieve success in this area.

We continually monitor the reports and intelligence about these issues, and have officers dedicated to the City Centre ward, in addition to our Weekend Policing Plan which places extra officers within the areas where we can anticipate increased levels of disorder or anti-social behaviour. We are also working to ensure we deploy resources appropriately as we see easing lockdown restrictions and in particular the re-opening of licensed premises.

However, my officers are deployed on an intelligence led basis and where the greatest need and demand is identified, so to that end I would encourage any constituents who have concerns to report them to police at the material time in order that we can build up a picture of where and when these offences are being committed. This enables me to build up a clear picture to prepare preventative measures in conjunction with our partners, but more importantly allows for spontaneous deployment to tackle individuals in a robust manner.

Should you require any further information, then please do not hesitate to get back in touch. I am more than happy to discuss, if your office is able to propose a convenient date/time I can make the necessary arrangements.

Yours sincerely

Gill Marshall
Area Commander
